

DENVER AIR CONNECTION FAQ

How much does parking cost at Kearney Regional Airport?

Parking is always FREE.

Where does Denver Air Connection (DAC) go out of Kearney?

DAC provides 12 weekly round trip flights from Kearney to Denver.

What is the schedule?

Daily service includes a morning departure to Denver, except for Sunday. There is an evening flight that returns from Denver to Kearney everyday with the exception of Saturday. Flight schedules may vary so we encourage you to check the schedule for your day of travel in advance.

How do I check-in and reserve a seat?

DAC uses open seating-- first come, first serve for their aircraft. Always check-in at the DAC ticket counter when you arrive to the airport. Please arrive 60 minutes prior to your departure.

Which Denver terminal is DAC located in?

DAC is in terminal C. To access Terminal A or B, use the airport train.

What type of aircraft does DAC fly?

Generally, a 50 passenger ERJ145 passenger jet, occasionally, a 30 passenger jet.

How do I book a ticket?

Travelers going directly to Denver, book on fly-dac.com or expedia.com. If travelers are looking to go beyond Denver, flights may be booked on united.com, AA.com or travelocity.com or Expedia or by using a travel agent.

Why does the ticket say "Key Lime Air" instead of DAC?

DAC is owned by Key Lime Air, also referred to as DBA as Denver Air Connection.

Will my bags be transferred from DAC to other airlines?

DAC has interline ticketing and baggage agreements with United Airlines/American Airlines so passengers will have access to the United and American network. Checked baggage connecting to- or from- the United/American network need only be checked in the originating city and will transfer to United/American flights.

How do I connect to Denver Air Connection?

On the web, type in flydac.com or Google "Denver Air Connection. Also, you can call the DAC Customer Service Center at (866) 373-8513.